

Fill the Skies with Music

Monday May 6 - celebrate the importance of music in our lives - especially in our schools.

This year's Music Monday is truly reaching new heights.

The official Music Monday song, commissioned by the Coalition for Music Education and CBCMusic, was written by Chris Hadfield – soon to be the first Canadian Commander of the International Space Station – and Ed Robertson of Barenaked Ladies.

I.S.S. (Is Somebody Singing) premiered on CBCMusic – the first space-earth song premiere in world history.

School programs and musical groups across Canada can now access free downloads on Musicmonday.ca

- I.S.S. (Is Somebody Singing) lead sheet and lyrics
- musical arrangements including choral, band, Orff, recorder, guitar, steel pan, drumline, ukulele and barbershop- some include audio demos
- translations of the song into 11 languages including French, Inuktitut, Cree, Ojibway, Russian, Italian, German, Spanish, Dutch and American Sign Language - and more to come
- a Learning and Teaching Module for elementary classrooms that demonstrates the connections between science and music, based on lesson plans from the Canadian Space Agency.

UNITE OUR NATION through SONG

Register now // musicmonday.ca

(Photo: CBCMusic.ca)

